ART SHOWS: Pictures by Wisconsin grade school children make up for unique art shows now touring Wisconsin, California, and South Dakota. They were arranged from work done by radio pupils of Prof. James A. Schwalbach, who conducts "Let's Draw" on the Wisconsin School of the Air over WHA and the state radio council's network.

Schwalbach, who has been teaching art for 15 years to pupils who can't see him, gathered the pictures and sent them out with sample radio scripts, a tape recording of a typical broadcast, and a discussion of the program's aims.

"These exhibits are being sent out," he said, "to show teachers and administrators in schools, and students working toward the teaching profession, how the grade school curriculum can be augmented by radio teaching.

Two of the shows are in Wisconsin. The first was at Union Grove Oct. 3-17, the second at Platteville Oct. 3-17. The remainder of their itineraries:

GURDJIEFF: A rarely seen art form, the sacred temple dances of the East developed by the late Georges Gurdjieff, will be shown in Madison at 8 p.m Tuesday, Oct 30, by members of the Taliesin fellowship.

The program will be at the First Unitarian meeting house, 900 University Bay dr. Tickets may be obtained by mail or at the University co-op book department

Performance of the Gurdjieff movements will also mark a demonstration of the secular side of the Unitarian church, with a turnabout of the auditorium seats toward an improvised stage.

The Gurdjieff movements will be under direction of Iovanna Lloyd Wright, daughter of architect Frank Lloyd Wright, who studied under Gurdjieff in Paris for several months before his death two years ago

"These exercises," she says, "are concerned with the development of the inner faculties of man. Based on definite knowledge of rhythm, they develop a succession of movements intended to intensify the correlation of the individual and his power of attention so much needed in our life today.

"As art they are derived by Georges Gurdjieff from the sacred temple ceremonies of the East. They are original, however, in that their author discovered only their origin during his search for knowledge in monasteries and esoteric schools in Tibet, Turkestan, Afghanistan, Kafiristan, and Citral. He has adapted them to the practices which you will see in this performance.

"The Gurdjieff music they typify was composed by Georges Gurdjieff himself."

Senate Overrides Veto on Cars for Disabled Veterans

WASHINGTON—(AP)— The senate voted 55 to 10 Friday to override Pres. Truman's veto of a bill which would have the government pay up to $1,600 on the price of an automobile for any veteran of World War II, or the Korean war, who has lost a leg or an arm, or is blind or nearly so.

The vote was far more than the two-thirds majority required to override a veto.

The senate action sent the bill to the house. A two-thirds vote of approval there would make the bill law despite Mr. Truman's objections.

In his veto message Thursday, Mr. Truman said he would gladly approve legislation limiting the proposed aid to veterans who have lost use of one or both legs at or above the ankle.

Mr. Truman's main objection to the bill was bringing in veterans who lost an arm or are blind.

South Beloit Man Admits Charges of Molesting Girls

JEFFERSON —(AP)— Ed Lopez, 29, South Beloit, Ill., factory worker, pleaded guilty Thursday to seven counts of molesting small girls.

Circuit Judge Harry S. Fox, Janesville, postponed sentence for 60 days during which time Lopez will undergo mental examination under supervision of the state department of public welfare.

Lopez was charged specifically with abducting minor children and taking indecent liberties.

He was arrested following investigation of two cases involving the abduction of small children who were waiting for their parents in parked cars in front of taverns in Rock and Walworth counties.

Subsequent investigation also resulted in charges against Lopez in several Beloit city cases. The case was taken to Jefferson on a change of venue from Beloit munipal court.

Jefferson Sausage Firm Fined $50

The Stoppenbach Sausage Co., Jefferson, was fined $50 in superior court Friday afternoon for using a chemical preservative in its hamburger in violation of state pure food laws.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph Goodman said the preservative, benzoate, was found in hamburger which Stoppenbach's distributed to a Stoughton meat market, and which was purchased by a state department of agriculture investigator in a routine check.

According to state law, benzoates cannot be used in food unless its presence is stated on the food label, along with directions on how it can be removed from the food before cooking.

Robert C. Tensfeldt, general manager of Stoppenbach's, and his attorney, Jerry Slechta, Jefferson, told Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor that the benzoate was in a commercial preservative which they purchased to put in their hamburger to retain a red color.

Certain preservatives are legal under state law.

Tensfeldt said the firm usually had preservatives tested in a laboratory before using them, but did not in this case and was unaware that it contained benzoates.
